Olimp Laboratories has been created more than 26 years ago with one aim “to assure better comfort of life, strength, health and vitality for our customers”. Since then, Olimp has become European leader in providing state-of-the-art sport nutrition formulas with advanced ingredients and unique composition.

Unusual atmosphere of cooperation, friendship and mutual support result in modern and complex approach to our customers and market needs. Thanks to the determination and intensive research work, we are able to contribute to the healthy lifestyle, based on both sports activity and healthy and balanced diet. In-depth knowledge, experience and cooperation with professionals from the field of nutrition and supplementation make our products unique and extremely effective, while maintaining their high quality and reliability. Olimp Labs has a well-organized unit responsible for product development and research into new ingredients and formulas, provided with state-of-the-art R&D laboratories. We are also known for being one of the few supplements manufacturers, who obtained full GMP certificate, covering manufacturing operations and batch certification. >
